Playing the game

Deliver a parcel to each house which has a numbered doormat. When delivering a parcel, the van should be on the same side of the road as the house being delivered to.

If a parcel misses the door mat, it may be possible to reverse quickly for another try.

Pat needs to complete the deliveries quickly, but driving too fast makes it difficult to avoid various hazards, such as road works, nails in the road and other road users. Watch out in particular for wobbly cyclists that wander across the road and vehicles that pull out without warning.

The van may need extra petrol to complete the five days, so pull in and stop at the petrol station when the fuel gauge is low.

If Pat fails to do the job properly, the number of complaints will mount as shown by the complaint meter and Dan may loose his job.
