FORTRESS UNDERGROUND

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE COMMODORE AMIGA

LOADING

Switch on your Amiga and insert the KICKSTART disk (Version V1.2) into the built-in disk drive (Amiga 1000 only). When the computer asks for the WORKBENCH V1.2 disk, insert the FORTRESS UNDERGROUND disk. The program will load and start automatically. IMPORTANT! Don't write protect the disk and leave the disk in the drive until you reset the computer!

DESCRIPTION OF THE GAME

The aim of the game is to track down and destroy a hostile power station in a gigantic underground cavern with the means of a battle helicopter. After starting the game by pressing the BUTTON (joystick in port 1 or 2), you can direct the helicopter with the joystick in all eight directions. In addition you can activate the canon on bord of the helicopter with the joystick BUTTON. Watch for the fuel supply (FUEL) during the flight. Should it wane you have to join a gas station. Immediately after landing on the fuel station field your helicopter will be refuelled. You should also fly to all stations with the sign STAY HERE because you can start again from one of these stations in case you have lost a helicopter. This movement spares yourself the trouble to get back to the beginning.
