Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions: Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

EXPERIENCE POINTS

With every new obstacle Harry overcomes, his experience level (XP) increases, turning him into a more knowledgeable wizard with brand new spells at his disposal.

ON-SCREEN INDICATORS

HEALTH INDICATOR

As Harry's health deteriorates, the colours on the screen fade. To regain his strength he must take cover from his attackers until his surroundings return to full colour.

DEMENTOR™ INDICATOR

When Dementors are nearby, the edges of the screen ice up, serving as a warning for Harry to prepare for battle.

One of Harry's most important magical possessions, his Invisibility Cloak can help him creep around unnoticed and sneak up on his foes to cast spells on them at close range. Bear in mind, though, that he cannot remain invisible while casting!

The chances of Harry being heard while under the Cloak increase the more he moves around and the closer he gets to his enemies. As he moves and approaches enemies while under the Cloak, the Stealth Meter, which appears in the bottom left-hand corner of the screen, drains and slowly turns red. In order to refill the meter and remain invisible, Harry must stand still and out of hearing range of all enemies.

To a wizard on the run, remaining undercover is as important as fighting enemies. In addition to his Invisibility Cloak, Harry can also use Polyjuice Potion and Peruvian Instant Darkness Powder to hide from his foes.

Potions aren't the only items lying around waiting to be discovered by Harry.

Potterwatch Harry can collect passwords to unlock Fred and George's 'Potterwatch' programmes and listen to their exclusive broadcasts.

HINTS AND TIPS

- ♣ When enemies are defeated, they often drop items in their haste to escape.
- ♣ Try to select the correct spell or potion to match your situation. Some work better on certain enemies and obstacles than others!
- ♣ It is possible to recover health, switch between spells and select potions whilst protected by Protego.
- ♣ Fred and George's 'Potterwatch' programmes can be listened to in the pause menu.
- ♣ Casting Confundo can be used to confuse your enemies, turning them against each other and tipping the odds against them.
- ♣ The rare Felix Felicis potion can provide Harry with huge advantages in combat. After drinking it, he becomes almost impossible to hit and incredibly accurate when casting!

Playing KINECT Safely

Make sure you have enough space so you can move freely while playing. Gameplay with KINECT may require varying amounts of movement. Make sure you won't hit, run into, or trip over other players, bystanders, pets, furniture, or other objects when playing. If you stand or move during gameplay, you need good footing.

Before playing: Look in all directions (right, left, forward, backward, down, and up) for things you might hit or trip over. Be sure your play area is far enough away from windows, walls, stairs, etc. Make sure there is nothing you might trip on—for example, toys, furniture, loose rugs, children, pets, etc. If necessary, move objects or people out of the play area. Don't forget to look up—be aware of light fixtures, fans, or other objects overhead when assessing the play area.

While playing: Stay far enough away from the television to avoid contact. Keep enough distance from other players, bystanders, and pets—this distance may vary between games, so take account of how you are playing when determining how far away you need to be. Stay alert for objects or people you might hit or trip on—people or objects can move into the area during gameplay, so you should always be alert to your surroundings.

Make sure you always have good footing while playing. Play on a level floor with enough traction for the game activities, and make sure you have appropriate footwear for gaming (no high heels, flip flops, etc.) or are barefoot if appropriate.

Before allowing children to use KINECT: Determine how each child can use KINECT and whether they should be supervised during these activities. If you allow children to use KINECT without supervision, be sure to explain all relevant safety and health information and instructions. Make sure children using KINECT play safely and within their limits, and make sure they understand proper use of the system.

To minimize eyestrain from glare: Position yourself at a comfortable distance from your monitor or television and the KINECT sensor; place your monitor or television and KINECT sensor away from light sources that produce glare, or use window blinds to control light levels; choose soothing natural light that minimizes glare and eyestrain and increases contrast and clarity; and adjust your monitor's or television's brightness and contrast.

Don't overexert yourself. Gameplay with KINECT may require varying amounts of physical activity. Consult a doctor before using KINECT if you have any medical condition or issue that affects your ability to safely perform physical activities or if: You are or may be pregnant; you have heart, respiratory, back, joint, or other orthopedic conditions; you have high blood pressure or difficulty with physical exercise; or you have been instructed to restrict physical activity. Consult your doctor before beginning any exercise routine or fitness regimen that includes KINECT. Do not play under the influence of drugs or alcohol, and make sure your balance and physical abilities are sufficient for any movements while gaming.

Stop and rest if your muscles, joints, or eyes become tired or sore. If you experience excessive fatigue, nausea, shortness of breath, chest tightness, dizziness, discomfort, or pain, STOP USING IMMEDIATELY, and consult a doctor.

See the Healthy Gaming Guide at www.xbox.com for more information.
