You have been chosen to venture to the 15 boundaries of Hell to gather the Arflits (brilliant Fireflies) which are the only thing that can save your magical world.

Faeries, your world is under threat of the evil powers of darkness. The light that makes Faeries immortal and all who live in their world are menaced by a shadow that threatens to plunge Faeries into eternal darkness.

The Arflits can be found in the 15 boundaries of Hell. Your quest is to travel to these boundaries and collect the Arflits and bring them back to the Faeries and use them to stave off the impending darkness.

You must brave the terrors of Hell that bar your path . . . The Grunts-two legged toad-like monsters that spit ectoplasm . . . Ravening werewolves and Monkoids.

Only your will will succeed and your magical bow and arrows with lightening bombs will help you to fulfill your quest. You must hunt for doorways that will lead you to different levels of Hell and ultimately to the 15 boundaries and the Arflits.

Drop your bombs by pulling back the joystick and shoot your arrows by pressing the fire button-your skill is the only thing that will keep you alive . . . . . Can you survive the furies of Hell?
