THE GAME

Its the year 2136. Discovery of Molecular transportation has brought about a new method of travel. Now you can be beamed to any part of the planet in seconds. There are 16 Transporter Pads scattered precariously about, that are not very easy to reach due to surrounding lethal mines.

Unfortunately, an alternative life force has been monitoring humans. The aliens are able to intercept those brief moments during the transportation process and separate the soul from the body, leaving dead matter for the beings to feed on. The human souls are then sealed in pure Nexus energy and left suspended eternally. These then become "Soul Stars".

Beam energy will appear as vertical beams on the screen. It will deflect your laser shots and trap pulsars. Pulsars aim to kill you, they are indestructable but avoidable and points are scored if you hit them!

As one of few surviving humans you must, equipped with an Excelsor Prototype Jetpack, save the human souls and defend yourself from the Aliens who mean to eliminate EVERYBODY!
